WEZL Sold, Awaits FCC Approval

Richmond radio station WEZL has been purchased by Eastern States Broadcasting Corp. The sale, awaiting approval of the Federal Communications Commission, was completed last week.

The new station has changed its call letters from WEZL to WRGM (Richmond's Good Music) in line with a program format change from strictly popular music to 'good music" of the non-classical variety. The change was effective yesterday.

Robert A. Monroe, also owner of a Durham, N. C., station, is president of the new broadcasting corporation. He will operate the station from Richmond. The sale price was not announced.

The station was previously owned by a group headed by Ben Strouse of Washington.

WRGM will continue to operate on a frequency of 1590 kcs. with 5,000 watts power. A spokesman for the station said no change in announcers was contemplated at present.

The new program log, Monday through Friday, will be as follows:
